2nd.—Every master of a vessel shall deposit his Ship's papers, together with a Summary of the Manifest of her cargo, at the Vice-Consulate at Taku, within forty-eight hours, if in the inner anchorage, and within fifty-six if in the outer, unless a Sunday or holiday should intervene. Masters not conforming to this Regulation will render themselves liable to a penalty of Two Hundred Dollars.

3rd.—Every British vessel must shew her colors on entering the Port or anchorage, and keep them hoisted until she shall have been reported at the Vice-Consulate, and her papers deposited there. Masters not conforming to this Regulation will render themselves liable to a penalty not exceeding one Hundred Dollars for each offence.

4th.—Should any vessel, the property of a British subject, but not provided with a Certificate of a Registry, hoist the British ensign within the anchorage, or should she exhibit within such limits any flag so similar to the British Ensign as not to be distinguishable from it, the master of such vessel will be liable for every such offence to a penalty not exceeding one Hundred Dollars.

5th.—Masters of vessels will be held accountable for the conduct of their crews on shore. Should any seaman absent himself without permission, the Master shall forthwith report the same at the Consulate at Tientsin, or Vice-Consulate at Taku, and take efficient measures for the recovery of the absentee.

6th.—The discharge of guns and other firearms from vessels in harbor is strictly prohibited under a penalty not exceeding fifty dollars.

7th.—Masters of vessels when reporting their arrival at the Port or Anchorage, shall notify in writing the names of all passengers and persons not forming part of the registered crew on board, and due notice must likewise be given of the numbers and names of persons not forming part of the registered crew, intending to leave the port on board of any vessel.

8th.—All cases of death occuring on board of vessels in harbor, or in the residences of British subjects on shore, must be immediately reported, and in the event of sudden or accidental death, the best information obtainable will likewise be required. 10th.—In mooring vessels at Tientsin near the bund, Masters will fasten their hawsers to the painted beams set apart for their use. By fixing hawsers to Trees, or in such a way as to impede the public path, Masters will lay themselves open to a penalty of fifty dollars for every such offence.

11th.—All cases of loss of property by theft or fraud on board ship, as well as of assault or felony requiring redress, or involving the public peace, must be immediately reported. Any Chinese subject guilty of a misdemeanor on shore or afloat may be detained on detection, but information in such case must be given forthwith at the Consulate or Vice-Consulate Office, and in no instances shall British subjects be permitted to use violence towards Chinese offenders, or take the law into their own hands.

IMPARTIAL, NOT NEUTRAL.

SHANGHAI, SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 14 1863

THE Municipal half-year ended September 1863, has witnessed many great improvements in the English settlement. The distinctive features of the mud-bank on which it is built are rapidly disappearing, and, thanks to draining and metalling, the roads have assumed a sufficient degree of solidity to warrant a hope that the intrusive water-courses which last winter rendered them almost impassable, will this year be confined to legitimate channels. The Report by the Municipal Council which we publish in another column, briefly sketches the works that have been completed, alludes to others now being carried out, and shadows forth contemplated further improvements which, when effected, will go far to make Shanghai the model settlement that with very little justice, it has been already styled. Advantage was taken of the opportunity offered by the departure of the 31st Regt. to supply the grave deficiency which had previously existed in the police force; and in consequence, for several months, we have heard nothing of the robberies which, at the begining of the year, were rather seriously frequent. The number of 155 men, however, to which the force was raised, has been found needlessly large, and it will be allowed to fall to 125, at which strength it will be permanently maintained. The Council have determined to use broken granite, instead of shingle, in future, in metalling roads; and this will probably be an improvement, as the pebbles become so slippery after a little rain that they afford a very insecure foothold. Foot paths are to be constructed in all the streets, of width proportional to the breadth of the road; we are sorry to see however that these are only to be commenced as each street may require repair. For many reasons, foot-paths are greatly needed, and will be more so as the winter comes on. Among the improvements contemplated, one of the most urgent is the repair, or rather construction, of the Hong-que Bund, but we fear there is not much prospect of its completion before the spring. The preparatory raising of the road, which has been entrusted to a Chinaman, implies its conversion into a temporary quagmire. Even now, it is almost impassable after a few days rain, and will become totally so, if, as we presume, the raising material is to be mud, which will be subjected for some four months to the alternate action of rain, frost, snow and sun. A most desirable alteration had been contemplated on the English Bund, and it is devoutly to be hoped that the expense which as yet prevents the design of the Council being carried out, may soon cease to be an obstacle. At present, this road, though capable of being made one of the finest in the settlement, is, in wet weather, one of the worst. Its breadth necessarily renders drainage less easy than in narrower streets; but the removal of the heaps of stone, building material and rubbish which have accumulated along the sides, would greatly facilitate it. We are glad to see that the Council hold out a prospect of this object being attained, and hope that the cessation of the heavy outlay which has been incurred during the past half year in drainage will enable them to undertake the construction of the foot-path on the side of the houses, and avenue along the river bank, which had been contemplated on the supposition that the funds at their disposal were sufficient. Next to the improvements in the roads and drains, the bunding of the Yang-king-pang is the greatest improvement that has been effected during the past half year; and we are glad that arrangements are being made with the French Council to prevent that creek being made the general receptacle for all the refuse and offal from both settlements. On the English side, a partial clearance of the channel has been effected in the course of bunding, but the French side is already half-choked. We are sure the French Council will agree with equal readiness to the substitution of an iron bridge for the very rickety structure which at present connects the two bunds. Some doubt appears to have arisen in the minds of the Council as to the applicability of the new rate of taxation on Chinese houses, in cases where they are tenanted by foreigners; but there can be no doubt as to the correctness of their decision that the "tax applies to the occupant, not the building." A foreigner residing in a Chinese house can only, in justice, be held liable to the same rate of taxation as a foreigner in an English built one. The revenue derived from this source, shows a satisfactory increase, and the collections have nearly reached the amount of assessment. The endeavours which have been made to induce the Hongkong Authorities to come to a rational understanding regarding Shanghai Postal arrangements, have proved futile. The dignity of gentlemen regularly authorised by the Secretary of State for the Colonies to waste an unlimited amount of red tape and foolscap, was endangered by even corresponding with "a body of men who had no legal standing;" Red tape obliges! much less could duly constituted Government offices be expected to entertain a proposition which not only did not emanate from themselves, but positively seemed to imply that improvement was possible in arrangements which had already received their august sanction. So the Municipal Council had to establish a Post Office of their own, and we doubt not that it will do its work quite as well, although it is not recognised by the Colonial Secretary, nor affiliated to the General Post Office at Hongkong.

Summary of the Week.

MISS BAILEY has continued to draw crowded houses. Her concerts are indeed well worthy of patronage, and she has no reason to complain of the reception she has met in Shanghai.

On Saturday morning last, the funeral of the late M. Mauboussin took place. The Chasseurs d'Afrique at present in garrison were turned out. The English Civil, Military and Naval authorities were well represented, and the officials of the other nationalities were likewise in attendance. Half a battery of the Royal Artillery was stationed in front of the French Consulate, and fired a salute. The ships in harbour had their flags half mast high, and guns were fired at short intervals from the men of war. H. E. Huang, Taoutai of Shanghai, was present during the performance of the Funeral service. The Rev. Père Gondet, Superior of the Jesuit Fathers officiated. We were glad to see that about thirty of the Shanghai Volunteer Infantry, and a few Mounted Rangers, turned out to do honor to the deceased.

M. Mauboussin will be much missed in Shanghai. The dignity of the French nation was well sustained in his person, and he took every opportunity of showing that he had at heart the interest of the French residents in the Settlement.

The British schooner G. C. Love when in Van Diemen Straits, on her way from this port to Yokohama, was struck by a sword fish, which caused her to leak very considerably. An attempt was made to continue the voyage, but it was at length found necessary to throw overboard a large quantity of cargo, and to put back to Shanghai. She arrived here on the 8th instant. The sword penetrated into the chain locker, and there coming in contact with the cable the point was broken off. Captain Fox has kindly offered to allow all who wish to do so, to go on board, and inspect the damage for themselves.

A report of the Regatta held on the 10th instant, will be found in another column. We also republish the account given from day to day in the Shipping News of the Autumn Race Meeting.

A trial which excited a little interest, came off at the British Consulate during the past week. It arose from a plaint laid against the Captain of the Marquis of Argyle, by a Miss Davis, for using threatening and indecent language towards her. A second count in the plaint charged the Captain with not having provided sufficient accomodation, and not being sufficiently attentive during the voyage from London to Shanghai. The evidence, which was rather of the Divorce Court class, clearly convicted the Captain of gross misconduct, and he was accordingly sentenced to pay a fine of $250 to the crown, and a further sum of $150 as compensation to Miss Davis.

The last meeting of the Municipal Council was totally without interest, and requires no special notice.

The following Post Office Notification has been published for the information of the American residents in the settlement:—

General Post Office,
Hongkong, 29th Oct., 1863.

From SOOCHOW we learn that two strong stockades at a place in the neighbourhood of Li-ku, and about four miles to the South-east of the city, were seized by Gordon on the 11th instant. The Imperialist loss was heavy; and one European Officer, Captain Gibb, of the 5th Regt., was killed.

Some changes have been made in the Chinese Consular service. In consequence of Mr. Consul Gingel's death, Mr. Vice Consul Hughes goes as Consul to Hankow, and is succeeded at Kiukiang by Mr. Vice Consul Adkins, who in turn is replaced by Mr. Senior Assistant Brauno.

From YOKOHAMA we have received a slight modification of the rumours current as the insurrection in Kioto. It appears that Nagato had formed the design of seizing the Mikado, when the latter was on his way to a temple called Isedairô jin gû, about seventy miles from the capital. The object he hoped to attain by thus seizing the Mikado was to extort from him the office of Sei-i-tai-sho-ngun (the great general who subdues barbarians). This design leaked out however, and Nagato was ordered to leave the city. He thereupon assembled his men, and attacked the palace in force. Fearing that such would occur, preparations had been made before hand, and the Daimios of the guard instantly collected and succeeded in driving back Nagato's men. The report of the bombardment of Osaca is utterly false, and must have arisen from a perversion of the fact that Nagato having failed in an attempt to obtain some arms which were stored in an arsenal in the province of Yamato, attacked the place, and utterly destroyed it, killing every man, woman and child in the place. The Tycoon has engaged the assistance of Satsuma and eighteen other powerful Daimios, and proclaims his intention of subjugating Nagato, and bringing him back to his allegiance.

The natives state positively that the vessels which were said to have been sunk by the Wyoming at Shimonoseki, were in reality only slightly injured, and are now in a state of perfect repair. This may be a mere piece of bravado, but it seems to have carried some weight with it in Yokohama.

SHANGHAI RACES.

AUTUMN MEETING.

WEDNESDAY was the first day of the Autumn meeting, and, as usual, a large number of the foreign residents, including, of course, many of the "beauty and fashion" of Shanghai were present. The Grand Stand presented a most animated appearance, and the events of the day passed off to the satisfaction of every one. The course was rather heavy in consequence of the rains, but the horses were in excellent training and condition, and did their work well. The time was as good as could have been expected from the state of the ground. The first saddling bell rang about 1 P.M., and little delay was experienced in bringing the horses to the post. An excellent cold tiffin was provided at Messrs Dent and Co.'s stable, and ample justice was done to the good cheer.

The following day (Thursday) passed off quite as well. The Course was in very fair condition, having dried considerably during the night. The Grand Stand was rather more thinly attended than on Wednesday, and was not graced by the presence of such a number of the fair sex.

There was a good attendance of gentlemen on the Grand Stand on Friday, but fewer ladies were present than on the two preceding days. This was probably attributable to the coldness of the wind, which rendered the Stand anything but a comfortable position. The racing was good, and an additional event came off to those noted on the card—a match between Nell Gwynne, the winner of the Hack Stakes on Thursday, and Ben, who it will be remembered threw his rider. The result showed that Ben's mishap lost his owner the race.

SECOND DAY.

1.—NORTHERN CUP.—Value Tls. 50.—For all CHINA PONIES. Quarter of a mile.

Mr. Barlow's Mrs. Gamp, 1
Mr. Fungus' Admiral, 2

Mr. Barlow's Hadji, 1
Mr. Alexander's Godolphin, 2
Captain King's Forrester, 3

This was an excellent race. Five horses ran. They kept well together for some distance, but the extra weight which Forrester had to carry for the Oriental t up proved too much for him, and Hadji won by several lengths. Time 4m. 10s.

3.—HANKOW PLATE.—Value 100 Guineas, Presented by the Hankow Community. For CHINA PONIES. Once round and a distance.

Mr. Fitz James' Exeter, 1

Time 4m. 3s.

5.—HANDICAP PLATE.—Value 50 Sovereigns.—Presented by a Member. One mile and a half.

Mr. Barlow's Lawyer, 1
Mr. Field's Canton, 2
Mr. Maxwelltown's Forerunner, 3

Won easily—Time 3m. 14s.

6.—HACK STAKES.—Value Tls. 100.—For all HORSES not otherwise entered at this Meeting, and all Winners of Races in China excluded. Three quarters of a mile.

Mr. Field's Nell Gwynne, 1
Brigadier, Ben and Podgers also ran.

This was a most amusing race. Ben threw his rider soon after starting; but continued the race by himself, following the course and coming in several lengths ahead of the others. As he had no rider he was declared disqualified, and the stakes awarded to Nell Gwynne. There were not wanting those who suggested that, as it was a "catch weight" race, Ben ought to have been declared a winner; but the argument that "gentlemen riders" were essential, prevailed; and although he was loudly cheered, his claims were rejected.
Time 1m. 54s.

THIRD DAY.

1.—TRIAL STAKES.—Value Tls. 100. Presented by a Member. For all Ponies. Half a mile.

Mr. Fungus' Admiral, 1
Mr. Tavey's Forlorn Hope, 2
Mr. Barlow's Mandarin. 3

Wee Pet was the favourite for this race on Thursday; but when brought to the post seemed entirely devoid of spirit, and refused to start. He was quite well on the previous evening, and the sudden change excited no little speculation.

2.—NATIVE BANKERS' PLATE.—Value...Gs. Presented by the Chinese Bankers of Shanghai. For all Horses. One mile and a half.

Mr. Fitz James' Exeter, 1
" Fields' Gratis, 2
" do. Robin Hood, 3

Hadji also ran for this plate, but notwithstanding his allowance, the stride of the English horse enabled him to outstrip him, and come in an easy winner.

3.—CHAMPION'S PLATE.—Value 200 Gs. For China Ponies only. Two miles.

Mr. Williams' Cure 1
" Fungus', Honi Soit, 2
" Flowerdew's Agony, 3

This was a capital race. Honi-soit ran the Cure very close throughout, and the latter only won by a head.

4.—STEEPLE CHASE.—Value Tls. 200. For all Horses. Three times round.

Mr. Barlow's Lawyer, 1
" Chance's Dash, 2

This was a very close race between Dusk and Lawyer, and might have resulted in favour of the former had not the rider lost his stirrups. Cheer up Sam came to grief at the double, and is, we fear, so seriously injured that he will have to be shot. His rider fortunately escaped unhurt.

5.—THE HELTER SKELTER.—Value Tls. 100. A Steeple Chase for all Ponies. Once round a course arranged by the Committee.

Mr. Besom's Charlie, 1
" do. Mud, 2

Four ponies ran, but the other two were distanced; Charlie and Mud came in as they liked, their riders pulling up to have a chat as they rode along. Charlie eventually went ahead and won.

6.—A HURDLE RACE.—Value Tls. 100. For all Horses. Once round.

Mr. O'Malley's Miss Mowbray, 1
" Chance's Dash, 2

Four ran; but Redstart and Gratis threw their riders early in the race. Dusk was a good second.

MATCH.

Mr. Markham's Ben, 1
" Field's Nell Gwynne, 2

Won easily by Ben.

SHANGHAI REGATTA.

THE Regatta on Tuesday last was, after all the unavoidable delay that took place in starting the boats, a very successful meeting. The "men of sinew" from the different vessels contended in a manner worthy of a better vantage ground than the River in its present crowded state, and some of the more enthusiastic ship masters had their vessels most creditably dressed out in bunting. There was a delay in starting in consequence of the tide not being favorable till 3.30; but at that time the first race was admirably started by Mr. Mercer. Two large ten and twelve oar launches from H. M. S. Vulcan contended in this race. The twelve oar reached the Flag boat first, but was afterwards disqualified for having gone the wrong road. This race was warmly contested, and to bystanders, the almost frantic gestures of the coxswains in the stern sheets of each boat afforded much amusement. The second race in the arrangement of the Programme at the last moment was the "Hong Race." Four Hongs put in an appearance, viz: "Weila," "Paou Shun," "Tung-foo" and "Tien-chong." An even start was effected from the Buoy off the S.S.N. Co.'s Wharf, and a good race pulled down the river, all the boats pretty close together. Tung-foo however was put hors de combat in consequence of the breaking of an oar, and Wei-la obtained the first place, Paou Shun second, and Tien-chong third. The races passed off with varied success; the course, for a wonder, being pretty well clear of Chinese craft, but the discretion of some amateur yatchsmen was not sufficient to keep them from displaying their seamanship on the course set apart for the racing boats. The Race of the day, both in interest and for as fine a display of rowing as has been our luck ever to see in China, was for the "Challenge Cup." Mr. Stout's crew were slightly the favorites, but from the manner in which Mr. Antrobus jockeyed his crew along at the finish, there is but little doubt that had the race been for a few yards more, he would have secured the Cup. The distance between the boats at the finish was so little, that three feet was given by the umpires as the distance by which Wei-la won. We believe however that the losers have by no means lost heart on losing the Cup, and would be very glad to have another friendly match with their worthy opponents. From the Bund this race was excellently well seen, and on passing the Vulcan the excitement of Jack at seeing landsmen pulling so well, vented itself in hearty cheers. The gun announcing the winning of this race closed the day's sport, and this, our first well organised Regatta, was over. We hope it will be the forerunner of many better. Hongkong was to have put in an appearance, but we believe owing to the sickness of one of her challenge crew, was unable to race. This we sincerely hope will not be the case next meeting, and let it be hinted to them that when they do honor us with a call, they will have their work already cut out.

We subjoin an analysis of the racing :—

1st.—Men of War Cutters.
Vulcan No. 2. 10 Oars.—No. 1 arrived first, but took the wrong course and lost the race.

2nd.—Hong Race.
Wei-la-boat 1st
In the early part of this race the Toong Foo boat was disabled by the breaking of an oar.

3rd.—Merchant ships' boats.
Agincourt 1st.
Cuddie Harold 2nd.

4th.—Men of war gigs.
Vulcan. 6 oars, 1st.
do. 4 " 2nd.

5th —Outrigger four oared gigs
Mr. Stout's Blue and White. 1st.
Won by about a quarter of a boat's length. A closely contested race.—(Communicated.)

MUNICIPAL REPORT FOR THE HALF YEAR ENDING 30TH SEPTEMBER 1863.

YOUR Council in presenting their half-yearly Report, have to state that very important changes have taken place in most of the departments under their control. Mr. Pickwood, the late Secretary, having resigned Office at the end of June, has been succeeded by Mr. Gould, and your Council being convinced of the expediency of the accounts of this Municipality being kept with greater precision than was heretofore to have been expected from the composition of the Staff, considered it advisable to abolish the office of Assistant Secretary, and create that of Book-keeper and Accountant in substitution; Mr. Johnston having been appointed to the new Office, and with whose business capabilities there is every reason to feel satisfied. In consequence of there being greater demands upon the space in the building known as the Central Police Station, and following up the recommendation embodied in the last annual report, a house has been taken affording suitable office accommodation and quarters for the Staff, which is situated on the opposite side of the road.

Police.—Your Council, taking advantage of the facilities afforded for an increase to the Police Force, by the ordering home of the 31st Regiment, largely augmented the Police establishment in May last, by the admission of 92 discharged soldiers of that corps, all of whose military antecedents offered fair hope of their settling down creditably in their new career. The Force being thus brought up to a strength of 155 of all ranks, since then from various causes it has fallen to 133, distributed in the following manner.

| Central Station ..... ..... | 71 |
| Louza " ..... | 27 |
| Hong-que " ..... | 35 |
| Total.... | 133 |

But though the late Council deemed a force of 155 men necessary for the maintenance of law and order, this number has appeared too large, as the requirements of the settlement have been more clearly defined. A police force of 125 men of all ranks is now held to be amply sufficient, which number will be gradually reached by future vacancies being left unfilled.

The general behaviour of the police force has been good, and though the offences recorded in the daily charge sheets for May and June were unusually numerous, this slight break-out may fairly be attributed to the sudden change from military to civil life, by which so many of the lately enlisted constables were doubtless affected. Your Council have found the greatest advantage result from the establishment of recreation rooms at the various stations, by which the temptations for men to leave their quarters have been greatly lessened. At the central station, are a library, reading, and bagatelle rooms, and a skittle ground in course of preparation, whilst temporary bagatelle rooms are in a use at Louza and Hong-que. The health of the force has been good. Your Council have in contemplation a scheme for the better regulation of the force, embracing an improved system of rewards and punishments, and a graduated scale of pension on retirement, all of which are in their opinion loudly called for, the interests however of existing members of the force, will be unaffected by these arrangements, which are to be prospective only in operation.

Your Council have accepted with regret the resignation of Mr. Superintendent Ramsbottom, whose health has been gradually failing him, but have pleasure in stating that he will continue the duties of his office until relieved by a competent successor from England. Mr. Ramsbottom has had the management of the police force for nearly three years, and it is mainly through his exertions that the present satisfactory state of discipline and efficiency has been attained; and your Council bear willing testimony to his having been a most reliable and zealous officer.

Arrangements have been made for the engagement of an experienced London officer as Superintendent of police, and two subordinate officers as an experimental measure, have likewise been applied for.

Water Police.—A Sergeant and three constables have been employed since the commencement of August, in preserving order amongst the crews of Cargo Boats and sam-pans and at the jetties. This establishment, if it should hereafter be pronounced desirable, would serve as a nucleus for the formation of a really serviceable force of Water Police.

Engineer.—Your Council have pleasure in reporting that the services of a competent Civil Engineer have been secured. Mr. Clark, for four years in the employ of the Great Northern Railway Company, the last two years of which as principal Assistant Engineer, arrived at Shanghai on the 25th July and assumed charge of all Municipal works on the 18th August. This gentlemen brought with him the highest testimonials, and for some time prior to his departure from England, was engaged in visiting works, whose inspection it was thought, would be of advantage to him on his arrival here. It is to be regretted that circumstances did not permit of the negotiation with Mr. Clark being sooner concluded, as for obvious reasons, the supervision of an experienced Engineer would have been desirable from the period at which the recent system of drainage commenced. Your Council had however the assistance of Mr. Carlile in carrying out the late improvements, and can bear witness to his being a most indefatigable public servant. Since this report was first drawn up, a complaint from which Mr. Carlile has suffered for the last 18 months, has necessitated his early departure for England, and the appointment he held not being essentially requisite at this season of year, will remain open until in the opinion of of the Municipal Engineer, the progress of public works shall demand additional supervision.

The following Tabular Statements shew the works that have been performed during the past half year.

Police Barracks.—A wing has been added to the Central Police Station, giving an accommodation of 10 Rooms, and has been occupied since the 1st July.

Bunding Yang-e-King-e-Pang.—Was commenced in March, and will be completed in November. The material used has been granite stone.

Works.—The Works contemplated for the ensuing six months comprise :—

Drainage.—Continuing the drain in Honan Road from Hankow Road to Soochow Creek, taking up a portion of the old drain in Shantung Road, now partially filled up, and forming a new one to Nanking Road, also construction of a drain in Canton Road, from Keangsee to Keangsoo Roads, and to lessen the chance of an accumulation of deposit, it is proposed that it shall be egg-shaped, and every precaution will be taken to make it as smooth inside as possible. All bends and junctions will be of as large a radius as practicable. The drainage of streets running East and West will be proceeded with as seems expedient.

Roads.—The Roads running North and South when metalled will be lowered as much as is consistent with the stability of the drains. The present manholes will be sunk about 9 inches to permit of the metalling being spread over them, but the position of each will be indicated by the letters M.H. on the adjacent wall.

Metalling.—When the stock of pebble shingle in possession is expended, it is intended to take into use broken granite of such size as will pass freely at any angle, through a ring 2½ inches in diameter. The cost of this will equal the highest price paid for pebble shingle.

Water Channels.—To be formed of granite cubes 12 in. by 6 by 4, sixteen in. wide and about three inches deep, they will discharge through vertical openings in the curb of the foot way. It has been considered desirable to discontinue the present description of brick water course, the material being extremely perishable, and not possessing sufficient strength to sustain the wheels of a vehicle, and it will be absolutely necessary when paths are formed. The difference in cost is estimated at candareens 75 additional per chang of 10 feet lineal.

Gully Holes.—New ones will be sunk two feet below the bottom of the small subsidiary drains in order that the deposit from the roads may be intercepted.

SUPPLEMENT TO THE "NORTH-CHINA HERALD."

SHANGHAI, SATURDAY, 14TH NOVEMBER, 1863.

Paths.—It is considered that all streets having a clear width of 22 feet should have a road 18 feet wide, and a foot path four feet wide. Streets above that width to have foot paths proportioned to the increase, and these works would be undertaken as particular roads might require repair. It has been decided to metal with broken granite, the portion of Nanking Road and the Bund. Granite stone channels 16 inches wide will be formed, one next the wall and the other at the side of the curb to the foot path, and the present foot path will be increased to a width of four feet.

The Bund.—An estimate was prepared for some improvements in this locality. It was intended to have a path of eight feet wide next to the Hongs. A road thirty feet wide in the middle, and the remaining space with an average width of thirty feet, would have made an excellent promenade. Trees could have been planted at regular distances inside the curb of the promenade next the centre road, and would in due course of time have constituted an agreeable shelter from the sun. The funds, however, at disposal altogether invalidated these arrangements.

The want of yard or suitable place, for the storage of the various materials made use of in the Engineer's Department has led to the accumulation of large quantities of stone and shingle on the bund. This lengthened obstruction of the thoroughfare your Council much regret, and trust that ere long, the bund will cease to be a depositary for building or other materials, the property either of the Public or of private individuals.

Jetties.—A timber jetty is being constructed on the Soochow Creek, length one hundred and thirty feet, width twelve feet, with steps at end, and according to contract should have been completed on the 17th October or thereabouts, an allowance being made for wet weather.

Latrines.—It is proposed to erect four new cells, a Cook House, Lavatory, Latrines, &c. &c., at the Central Police Station, also to build two or three latrines in parts of the settlement standing most in need of them.

Buildings in Progress.—A small dead house and dissecting room in the Pootung Cemetery. A shed the length of the compound, New Municipal House, for reception of barrows, tools, carts, &c. Alterations to barrier gate at lower end of the Maloo, giving increased width to road, and two side gates for foot passengers.

Hong-Que Bund.—This work has been let to a native Contractor and will cost about $648. It is proposed to remove present loose stone coping where necessary, and to raise the road on an average eight inches all over, this will allow of its being metalled next spring.

Survey of Settlement.—Your Council hope at an early date to carry out a comprehensive and accurate survey of the settlement, until which is completed they feel that there will be in very many instances, the greatest uncertainty as to particular boundaries and limits, and in the identification of property.

Bridges.—The Bridge connecting the Bunds of the English and French settlements has become almost dangerously unsafe, and it has been proposed to replace it with an iron superstructure and stone abutments, though on this point nothing can be done without the concurrence of the French Municipal Council.

Nuisances.—Your Council have in view the development of a scheme which may result in both sides of the Yang-King-Pang being efficiently protected from the reception of the refuse and offal of the settlements, and have pleasure in stating that in this matter the French Municipal Council have intimated a willingness to meet them half way.

Taxes. Wharfage Dues.—Your Council gave their early attention to the re-adjustment of the rates on Imports and Exports on a fairer basis, but in as much as the proposed alteration in the tariff would have involved a loss of from twenty to twenty two per cent on the receipts, and having in view, (under sanction) the gradual supercession of the Jetties now in use by others of improved structure and greater durability, they did not feel justified in depriving themselves of the means by which alone these improvements could be satisfactorily carried into effect. Your Council thoroughly endorse the opinion of their immediate predecessors, that the sum of $4,000, paid by H. E. the Taotai in commutation of Wharfage Dues chargeable to Chinese traders, does not adequately represent the value of the merchandize exported or imported by them, and like the Council of 1862, have solicited the kind offices of the various Treaty Consuls in impressing upon the mind of H. E. that the sum of Taels 15,000 is below what would be leviable were the foreign Tariff applicable to the Chinese.

Chinese House Tax.—The collection for the half year ending 30th June has amounted to Taels 46,296 or within Taels 3,804 of the estimated receipts. The Rev. M. T. Yates has spared no exertion that might conduce to an equitable assessment, and from his familiarity with the vernacular, there have been very few instances in which the assessments has been objected to.

It will be within the recollection of all that in May last an attempt was made by the Chinese authorities to levy a house tax, surreptitiously almost, in the Municipality by means of foreign collectors, and that your Council caused the said collectors to be arrested and brought before their respective Consuls for punishment. To settle at once however regarding the right on the part of the Chinese to tax, such right never up to that time having been enforced, even allowing it may have existed, seemed to them the most desirable course to pursue. A meeting was kindly called for that object by H.B.M. Consul on the 12th June, H. E. the Taotai attending. The resolutions then passed having been published it will not be necessary to recapitulate them. Your Council would wish to remind you that with reference to the eight per cent on Chinese rentals being paid to the Taotai, they carried out simply the spirit of one of the suggestions contained in the letter addressed to Sir Frederick Bruce by a committee appointed by the land renters generally. In the treaty it may be observed, one clause provides that all local matters are to be settled by agreement between H.B.M. Consul and the Chinese provincial authorities, to this, particular attention is directed. Since the institution of this tax certain difficulties have been developed in its collection. In several Chinese houses, foreigners have taken up their residence, who of course hold themselves exempt from its operation, whilst on the other hand numbers of Chinese are to be found in foreign built edifices. Your Council have been of opinion that the tax applies to the occupant, not to the building, and have endeavoured to carry out this principle. It must be confessed that in this way a very considerable loop hole to evade payment is afforded to the dishonest. Again, many instances occur of houses being tenanted for a portion only of the period for which the tax is charged or in some instances not at all. The staff of collectors employed is far too small to enable it to be determined accurately what houses have been let and what have not; and another means is afforded to the dishonest of evading the payment which is due.

Foreign House and Land Tax.—The Foreign House Tax up to the present time, though in a majority of instances falling upon the tenants, has always been collected from the owner; of late several cases have occurred in which owners have objected to pay, their tenants having left the premises before the debit notes were sent in. It would be desirable if possible to collect the Tax directly from the tenant, and now that your Council see their way to effecting this, they trust that the receipts will in future be duly ensured. By the new assessment list this Tax has been raised in amount from Taels 4,000 to Taels 23,000 per annum. Your Council trust that by an early and complete survey of the settlement a better system of land registration than the present one may be practicable, rendering less difficult the identification of each original registration, together with the now constantly increasing sub-division.

Licences.—Seventeen Taverns in this settlement, and twenty six in Hong-que are under Municipal Control, yielding a revenue of Taels 6,450 per annum, also eleven Chinese Shopkeepers here, and seventeen in Hong-que, are licensed to retail Foreign Liquors in quantities not less than a single bottle, which produces Taels 4,200 per annum.

One thousand seven hundred Sampans have been numbered and licensed, the sum of Taels 2,430 having thus been realized.

One hundred and fifty two Sedan Chairs have been licensed and numbered since 1st November 1862, the date of the scheme being carried into effect, and the sum of Taels 295 has been received.

Post Office.—Your Council have used their utmost efforts to put this establishment on a proper footing. They were anxious to secure the co-operation of the Hongkong Authorities, but have not been in any way successful. In order to render this Office self supporting, and a real benefit to the Community at large, letters from all Chinese and Japanese ports should pass through it. Certain proposals were conveyed though a private medium to the Hongkong Authorities, the chief ones being, that stamps should be issued in Hongkong to frank letters despatched to or from Shanghai, and that two thirds of the total sum realized by issue of such stamps should be credited to Hongkong and one third to Shanghai. Had this arrangement been carried out, the necessity for an Imperial Office would have ceased, and economy with greater facilities of delivery have been ensured. The authorities in the South, however, did not deem it expedient to adopt these views, and explained in set form that they could not entertain relations with a body of men who had no legal standing, and your Council being indisposed to waste their time in arguing this much mooted point, have therefore refrained from further movement in the matter. They trust however that the Local Post Office, notwithstanding the checks alluded to, will prove itself a useful institution and be competent to the discharge of wider duties should such hereafter prove requisite.

Lighting.—Your Council trust that ere long the plans of the Gas Company may be sufficiently developed to admit of some satisfactory arrangement being concluded with regard to the effective lighting of the settlement.

Fire Engine.—A powerful hand Engine of the following description was to have been shipped from Boston for this port at the expiration of six weeks from the date of latest advices. Six inches diameter of cylinder and thirty-six inches stroke of piston, with hose and hose carriage, drag ropes, buckets, lanterns, extra spanners and extras of such parts as may be lost or injured. The estimated cost is $2,300 (American) and the Engine is reported to be a more powerful one than any ever used in the city of Boston.

Street Calls.—Your Council, acting upon the expressed views of Mr. Medhurst late H.B.M. Consul at this port, have suppressed the noisy cries of the street coolies, a measure which they venture to hope has been approved of by the community, and which was effected without the arrest of a single coolie.

Street Nomenclature.—Your Council regret that no alteration in the existing system of street nomenclature appears practicable, the number of Title-deeds inscribed with the present names being so large as to render any change inexpedient.

Cemetery.—Your Council are persuaded that the time has now arrived for a discontinuance of the practice of interment within the limits of this settlement. The progress of civilization has long since induced dwellers in large European cities to bury their dead in comparatively isolated spots, and your Council, taking into consideration the densely populated state of this municipality, feel that they would be neglecting their duty, did they not publicly call attention to this fact. They would suggest the purchase being sanctioned, of an eligible site for a new cemetery, which might be effected in the district just outside the line of defence and on the right bank of the Soochow creek, the situation alluded to would be nearly opposite the site of the proposed General Hospital.

Incorporation of Hong-que. — Your Council received a communication from Mr. Cunningham, Chairman of the Hong-que committee of ways and means on the 14th September, enquiring whether they were prepared to incorporate that district with this settlement. Mr. Cunningham's letter on this subject, together with the reply thereto, have already been published in the minutes of the meeting of Hong-que land renters 21st September. Your Council considered that no discretionary power whatever was left to them in this matter, a resolution of land renters on the 31st March 1862, in the first place, stating that the district of Hong-que was to be admitted provisionally into the Shanghai Municipality, whilst the following motion carried on the 4th April last, seemed to dispose of the question finally:—

"That the newly elected Council be "recommended to use every exertion to "carry into effect the resolution passed "at the last annual meeting relative to "the incorporation of Hong-que into "the present settlement, and to make "such alteration there, as if found ne-"cessary, to secure either partially "or wholly that desirable end." Your Council required however as a sine qua non the report of the Hong-que assessment committee, in order that the revenue derivable from that district might be fairly estimated before any decisive action was taken.

Since then the following protest against the annoxation has been received.

Oct 20th, 1863.

Gentlemen.—We the undersigned renters of land in so called English concession, hereby formally protest against the incorporation of the Hong-que settlement with this municipality except on the distinct understanding, that the expenses of whatever nature which may be incurred by the Municipal Council consequent on such annexation, be entirely met with the income derived from the taxation of the Hong-que district.

with others, in all 85 signatures.

COUNCIL ROOM,

9th October, 1863.

Gentlemen,—I am directed by the Municipal Council to acknowledge the receipt of your communication dated the 20th ultimo, protesting against the incorporation of the Hongque settlement with this municipality, unless the revenue to be derived from the former district shall be commensurate with its expenses, and in reply am to state that H.B.M. Consul has been requested to convene a Public Meeting of Land Renters about the 28th—31st inst. when the Board trust the important issues which the annexation of Hongque would involve, may be thoroughly discussed.

JAMES COCK,
Treasurer.

The recent improvements carried out in the settlement have necessarily absorbed a large item of the revenue, and your Council, whilst recurring to the subject of money being raised on loan for the prosecution of Public Works, so frequently alluded to at previous meetings, take the opportunity of expressing what they believe to be the general conviction, that the residents of to-day should not be called upon to defray the expenses of improvements, of which the fullest benefit may be reaped by their successors in years to come. They would therefore recommend that funds for the carrying on, not only of drainage operations, but road making and all public works of a durable nature, be raised on loan, and be paid off as the finances at the disposal of the Municipal Council permit.

Difficulties have hitherto been experienced in the negotiation of loans, and your Council have been obliged to hold themselves individually responsible for sums loaned to the Public, but it is proposed in future to obviate this inconvenience by giving a lien on Municipal property.

The amount raised for drainage operations is as follows:

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| Municipal Council 10 per cent Drainage Loan and 10 per cent Sinking Fund | Tls. | 18,200.00 |
| Temporary Drainage Loan | " | 31,067.96 |
| Total | Tls. | 49,267.96 |

Whilst the cost of Drainage from 1st of August 1862 to 30th September 1863, amounts to Taels 55,4 1.01.

The large outstanding account with Hong-que, together with the non-realization of the expectations of the Defence Committee in regard to the sum of Taels 3,000, being derived from deeds for frontages in the Shaklou Road, have necessitated the taking up a temporary loan of Taels 25,000, which it is estimated can be paid off out of the current income prior to the termination of the Municipal year, should a settlement of the Hong-que debt take place previously.

With the view of bringing to notice certain subjects that your Council are anxious should be discussed at the ensuing meeting, a summary of the main points on which they consider a distinct expression of opinion would be desirable, is appended.

H. W. DENT, Chairman.
GEO. F. HEARD.
JAMES COCK, Treasurer.
J. KEARNEY RODGERS.
DAVID REID.

THE following subjects are especially recommended for consideration:—

1. Water Police.—The formation of a Water Police, sufficiently strong in numbers to carry out effectively the harbour regulations and to ensure the maintenance of law and order amongst the large floating population of this port. The nature of these duties would be to act in conjunction with the Harbour Master and Custom House Authorities, and to give effect to Consular warrants for the apprehension of offending seamen; also a Guard Boat would pass along the line of shipping nightly at variable hours.

2. Yard or plot of Ground available for the storage of Municipal property, stone, shin le, &c.—The necessity for a depository of this kind has been shewn in the report, a portion of the space reclaiming itself from the river, in front of the British Consulate, would serve the purpose temporarily.

3. Chinese Night Pass s.—The propriety of a Municipal Fee of One Dollar being paid for each pass issued.

4. Taxation of Houses of Public Entertainment.—Opium shops, Tea houses Brothels, Theatres, Gambling houses, Samshoo shops etc.

5. Parapet-Line of Defence.—The advisability of levelling the Parapet along the line of defence, in the absence of military reasons for its continuance.

6. Jetties.—Alterations or Improvements to.

7. Yang-king-pang.—The views of the French Municipal Council with respect to this creek will be ascertained if possible prior to the 30th instant.

8. Land Office.—In the half yearly report for 1862, it was stated that the establishment of a Land office would be agreeable to the Consular authorities: the question of its necessity is referred to the meeting—but the Municipal Council are not prepared to undertake the responsibility of management, unless an annual sum adequate to cover the working expenses, be guaranteed from some other source than existing Municipal Taxes. Pending however any arrangements of this nature, convenience would result from the transfer of land and sub-division of lots being notified to the Secretary, and by those possessing plans of their property permitting copies to be made thereof.

9. Land Regulations.—The revision of the Land regulations, and the legal status of the Council are topics that have been too frequently discussed to require a very lengthened introduction, a copy of the alterations and modifications in the existing code, proposed by the committee of the 19th March 1863, has already appeared in the North-China Herald of the 11th April, 1863, and will be laid on the table on the 30th instant.—In this matter, particular attention is requested to Sir. F. W. Bruce's dispatch to Earl Russell of 30th April 1863, and published in the Shanghai Recorder of 16th ultimo.

10.—Houses and Land Tax.—The propriety of Foreign Houses being numbered by Streets, and this tax being collected from the occupants.

11.—Wells' Bridge.

12.—Iron Bridge across the Yang-king-pang.—A sketch by Mr. Clark, of an Iron Bridge of the following description (which has been referred to the French Municipal Council for their consideration) will be laid on the Table on the 30th instant; to be formed of seven wrought iron segmental girders, and would cost approximately £3400.

13.—The cost of works of a durable nature being defrayed by loan.

14.—Cemetery—Removal of?

15.—Measurement of Ground—Number of square feet per mow.

NEWCHWANG RACES.

DEAR SIR,—Knowing that Mr. Desdechado's account of the Races, we have just had in this out of the way little port of Yingtze, would be sent for insertion to your paper, I thought I might just say a few words about them first of all; of course there was the usual desire in our little community to get good horses and many of us worked through 25 miles of swamp to attend a horsefair, held a little before; in this way many crack Ponies were got, "Novice" and the game little "Hedyoke" being among the purchased. Our whole foreign community here consists of a very few, and yet we had seven presentation cups of which four were worth $100 each, one $75 and two $50 besides various purses from the value of $50 to $10 given to Ponies owned or ridden.

The first day of the Races we had very heavy showers and yet the time in which the Ponies did their work contrasts favourably with Tientsin, the half mile sweepstakes having been done in 65 seconds, and the challenge cup having been won in less than 2.20 while the three mile race was won easily in 8-4. You will also observe that our hurdles are a foot higher than the Tientsin Pony Race hurdles. Our steeple chase course was a made course and consisted of first a blind ditch with a hurdle two feet high; and besides other jumps which I dont mention we had a wall 3 feet 6 inches high, a wall 2 feet high with a wide ditch on each side and the double being 7 feet with 5 feet landing ground and then another 6 feet. When we consider that with the exception of Mr Lauderdale we have no good Jockey at Ying-tsze, we must come to the conclusion that the Ponies were well and nicely up to their work. Our favorites amongst them were Vainhope, Puscha, Novice and Hedyoke, the latter of whom would have done very well only he was in very bad condition, being as fat as a pig when he ran, and though a small Pony, had the misfortune to be ridden by a heavy and a bad Jockey with the exception of the Consolation stakes which he won (Traveller coming in second) he always cut out the pace at a slashing rate. Vainhope is the perfect model of a Pony, and we have not seen what he can do as like "Eclipse" he has never required to put himself regularly out. Novice has a most racy action, and Puscha is a game pony for half a mile, but cannot make a good pace with a heavy rider. He is a magnificent fencer, and the only reason that we can see that he did not win the Shipmaster's cup, was that he was the favourite, and therefore fortune was against him. The ground was very heavy and Puscha in going over a wall got his foot into a deep hole which sent him over. In spite of that he came in a good second. He lost the Steeple chase by a fluke. Altogether we had very good times, and we managed to enjoy ourselves very much, although we could not get the crowds of admirers to look at our ponies while they were racing, that assemble at Ianghae. Our sport was heartily joined in and carried through. Everything went off couleur de rose, and we hope now that pony racing will be a biennial institution in this land of beancake.

I am sir,
Your obedient Servant,
T. H. E. WHALE.

LOSS OF THE AMERICAN SHIP WILLIAM STURGIS.

Conduct of the Spanish Officials.

To the Editor of the
DAILY SHIPPING AND COMMERCIAL NEWS.

SIR,—The loss of the American ship Wm. Sturgis while entering the harbour of Ilo Ilo, has probably been reported through your columns.

The following is a statement of the conduct of the Spanish Authorities, which I hope you will deem of sufficient importance to make public.

The ship struck while entering the harbour of Ilo Ilo, Sept. 20th, within sight of the town, and immediately hoisted signals of distress.

At 2 P.M., the English ship Planet lying off the town signalized to the shore that there was a ship on the bank making signals for assistance. The Captain, in company with the Captain of the barque Sir Isaac Newton, and Mr. Jackson of the house of Russell & Sturgis, waited upon the authorities and requested that assistance should be sent, and proposed that the government steamer lying in the port should be dispatched to see what aid might be rendered; but they refused to do so on the plea that the weather was too bad. Though the Captain of the Planet offered to go in his boat if the steamer would tow him to a position from which he could reach the ship, wind and tide being against him, they refused to do so, though it was thought that the ship would go to pieces before morning.

During the night, the ship beat over the bank, and came to in 7 fathoms of water, and at daylight was between the Magician and Otong banks, having lost four anchors and her rudder, and was trying to reach the Guimaras shore, under canvas, being steered by her head sails. The condition of the ship showed that she was fast sinking. Again the authorities were urged to send assistance, but to no purpose. The Planet's boat was dispatched, and succeeded in reaching the ship, a few minutes before she sunk, and took off her officers and crew, they having lost all their boats during the night. The ship sunk about a mile from the Guimaras shore in 7 fathoms of water, the top of her houses being above water. The day following she was visited by the officials of the place, who commenced plundering the ship of whatever they could lay their hands on. The mate who was in charge of the ship complained to the Collector who was present, and showed him the stolen property in the boat, but he refused to notice it, and the boat was shoved off when the mate attempted to obtain possession of them.

Two days after, the guard-boat came to the ship at daylight, containing 25 natives headed by the visiting officer, a Spaniard, and attacked the mate who was alone and unarmed. After a short struggle, in which his head was split open in three places and right arm disabled by blows with iron bars, they succeeded in overpowering him and lashing his arms behind him. While in this helpless condition he was beaten until insensible, and was found lying upon the top of the after house, by the boat which visited the ship a short time after.

The affair was laid before the authorities there, but no redress could be obtained, as the officials were all implicated in the plundering of the ship at the time of their first visit, and which was the cause of the attack.

The utter disregard to the loss of property and it might have been of lives, which the authorities evinced, may hardly be credited in this age of civilization. And the plundering of the ship by those in power and to whom we look for protection renders the case still more aggravated. I hope by giving these facts to the public it may serve as a guide for others and give them an insight of what they may expect from the hospitality of the Ilo Ilo Officials.

THOS. BOONAR,
Late 1st Officer, Wm. Sturgis.

THE MANTCHUS AND THEIR CAPITAL.*

To one who has never seen the East and loves the garrulous style of the old chroniclers, this book of Mr. Fleming, who is, we believe a veterinary surgeon in the army, will afford some pleasure. In nearly six hundred pages he relates the simplest incidents which befel him and his companion, Mr. Michie of Shanghai, in a journey from Tientsin round the Gulf of Pechecelee beyond the Great Wall to Moukden, the old capital of the present Mantchu dynasty. These incidents are neither more amusing nor important than would befal any traveller in a dak journey in India, and if the almost photographic description of agricultural life and scenery on the route were omitted, the whole narrative might, with advantage, be condensed in a few pages. The interest of the book to those who know the East, consists in the fact that the travellers were the first to test the value of the passport clause of Lord Elgin's treaty, that they approached the new treaty town of Newchang from the interior, so as to be first in proving it useless for purposes of trade, and that they visited Moukden, the old Mantchu capital. We gladly use the book as a peg on which to hang some account of the Mantchus in their relation to China, and their difference from other tribes with whom they are frequently confounded.

All Central and Northern Asia above the Himalayas, and between China and Persia proper, is generally looked upon as inhabited by Tartars, a name as generic and vague as "Assyrians" in antiquity. Klaproth's researches during his residence in Russia have enabled us to distinguish these so-called Tartars into three great races, the Mantchus in the far north and east, the Mongolians in the centre about Lake Baikal, and the Turks to the west. In the character and movements of these three tribes is hidden the root of all history, subsequent to that of the Jews as a nation and the dispersion of the Aryans into India and Europe. The first great wave of humanity from Asia, of any importance, was the Aryan; the next was the Turanian or Tartaric, and the two races are still seething uneasily in the valley of the Danube. The Mongols were the first of the three tribes to rise to power, thanks to Genghis Khan, who united into one horde of invaders called by the name of Tartars, with his own clan of Mongols, the Buriats and Kalmuks. At their head he subdued both the allied Mantchus to the east and Turks to the west, established a dynasty in China, and ruled over an Empire including all Asia, except India, and all European Russia. The first to rise to power, the Mongols were the first to succumb to their rivals. They rallied under Timour, who defeated the Turkish Bajazet, and again under Baber who established the Mogul dynasty in India which perished last year, but in 1360 they were driven out of China where the Mantchus supplanted them, and out of Europe and Central Asia where the Osmanli Turks and Russians rule whatever was theirs. The last capital of the Mongol Khans was Karakorum. The Turks had long contests with the Chinese, who broke them up into a southern and northern empire in the first century after Christ, and with the aid of the former drove the latter into Europe. After being humbled by the Mongols, they attained the ascendancy under Othman, and became a European power.

The Mantchus in the far east were the last to distinguish themselves, though they helped the Mongols to empire. Klaproth makes them Tungusi such as the Russians drove from Siberia. They conquered China in 1644, when they founded the present dynasty and took the name of Mantchu, as it is more frequently written. Up to this period, for several thousand years, the Chinese had managed on the whole to resist those invasions of Mongols and Turks which swept down upon Aryan Europe. Even when for three centuries the Chinese did accept a Mongol dynasty, the foreigners never dislodged them, but were tolerated as the governing stratum of society only until a native dynasty, like the Mings, should be ready to oust them. The Mantchus, knowing this and afraid lest their comparatively small numbers should tempt to successful insurrection, forced the Chinese to adopt their conquerors' fashion of shaving part of the head and plaiting the rest of the hair into a long tail. A return to the national habit of long hair has always characterised rebel movements, like that of the Taipings. The original province of Mantchuria was two-thirds of the extent of India, embracing the greater part of the Amoor country now annexed by Russia. Shut off from the ocean peninsula, by palisades still existing, from China by the Great Wall, and from Mongolia on the West by the Khing-khanoola range, Mantchuria is simply an enormous and fertile valley surrounded by high hills. Its present capital is Ghirin-oola, but before its people conquered China, Moukden was the chief city. This city, visited by Mr. Fleming, is now the only important town of the purely Chinese province of Leao-tong, in which Newchang is the treaty port. It was not here, but in Mongolia, on the other side of the hills to the west, that Lord Macartney visited the Emperor's palace of Ichol where is the great hunting-ground of the Royal Family, and whence Pekin derives its supply of wheat. In all Moukden, and on the way to it, Mr. Fleming saw only Chinese. The travellers had a passport signed by Mr. Meadows, the well-known sinologue and the Consul at Newchang, and were fortunate in having the assistance, when in the city, of a Chinese comprador as a guide.

Contrasted with Pekin, the first appearance presented by Moukden caused a pleasurable surprise. The old capital is almost a square and is entered by eight gates. The wall is a smaller edition of that which encircles Pekin, rising from a base 25 feet wide to the height of 35 or 40 feet. Twelve towers, in good order are distributed over it, extending in all from ten to twelve miles. In the centre of the square, and on exactly the same plan, is the imperial city with walls, towers and the eight gates. From these, in both the outer and inner cities, run the eight principal streets, which intersect each other in the middle of the imperial square. Nothing could be more American than this, and the streets are both broader and cleaner than those of Pekin. In the centre is the palace, which our travellers were not alowed to enter, because they would not ko-tow to the Emperor's portrait. But there was little to attract the visitor.

"A short distance from the shaky gate, we saw a long court branching off to one side, at the top of which was an octagonal peristyled building of wood, with a heavy roof of yellow tiles, and dragons twining around the pillars. Though very much gone to decay, there was yet enough left to show that it must have been an elegant building of its kind about a century since. In two rows on each side of the edifice were ten smaller structures built in the same style. The large one, we were informed, was the imperial reception room, and the others were erected for the Emperor shun-chi's brothers This emperor, who is regarded as the first of the dynasty, held his court here about 250 years ago, but when he had made secure his hold upon the great empire of China, he removed to Peking, since which time this regal dwelling has not been occupied for any lengthened period by his successors, and it has been only used by some princes of the yellow girdle who have no great claim to higher consideration. The sum of two thousand dollars is granted annually to keep the place in repair, but, said our informant—a Ianghai emprador at Ying-tsze—with a knowing look, 'all that dollar go big mandarin; he think it all same cumshaw (present or gift),' certainly a mild way of looking at such a fraudulent misappropriation of public money. We saw nothing anywhere to confirm, or at all substantiate, the belief so popular in some of the Chinese communities, that the Emperor of China remits every year such sums as he may be able to collect in Peking to Shing-Yang, there to be kept for emergencies; and doubtless the report is without foundation."

Shin-Yang is the present name of Moukden On the same site stood the Mantchu capital in the almost traditionary times of Yan 2,357 B. C., when it was called Tsing-chow. In 1630 the walls were rebuilt in a grander style and the city was called Moukden, or the Flourishing place. In 1681, the Jesuit father Verviest visited it in the suite of the Emperor. Eight miles beyond the city are the Yoong-ling, or "tombs which ought never to perish," of the Mantchu sovereigns, but Mandarin jealousy induced the travellers to give up all idea of visiting them. Besides, does not Du Halde describe the country beyond, or Mantchuria proper, as a place where the road is difficult, and the hills are covered on the east side with huge oaks and forests uncut for ages past? All the country is like a wilderness. "You see nothing around but hills, rocks, and dens of bears, tigers, and other savage beasts; scarce a house, but some pitiful huts by the sides of rivers and torrents." Moukden is pronounced the Edinburgh of the Chinese Empire, with its regular and broad streets, lined by respectable shops of a uniform height and frontage and destitute of indecent displays.

"The people were well, though not luxuriantly, dressed, and I do not think during our stay we noticed a beggar or ragged individual within its walls. There were large stands of cart-cabs with excellent mules in them, an error to those of Peking. There were capital shops with large open windows, in which were counters for the sale of furs, native cottons, dye-stuffs, grain, and medicines, as well as ready-made clothing; but we could perceive nothing European, save a couple of boxes of German lucifer matches which we saw when we afterwards had an investigation on foot. A good proportion of those shops were kept for the manufactory and sales of bows and arrows, and in some of them there were splendid specimens of the skins of eagles and vultures We passed several large Yamuns or government buildings, before which were drawn up dozens of cabs, and crowds of attendants awaiting the convenience of their several owners who were within, probably discussing questions concerning the management or mismanagement of a province the length and breadth of which is estimated at 700,000 square miles Each of those public offices was guarded by rows of high black chevaux de frize. The great number of people,—whether mandarins, servants, or soldiers we could not always distinguish in the crowds and dust we often got involved in,—struck us as extraordinary for such a small city, and such a comparatively unimportant capital of a province beyond the Great Wall Booths and stalls there were none, and even the nomadic vendors of eatables, and the peripatetic craftsmen of all grades and trades who roam freely elsewhere, were here invisible We looked closely for some indications of Tartar existence, but without success, except in some streets where shops were devoted to the fabrication of figures or effigies made of reeds and covered with paper to represent men and women servants bearing cups of tea and other things necessary for a feast; and in addition, horses and stags, modelled and painted in a sporting style, such as we could fancy the Mantchus—as we had read of them—might appreciate and desire to have burnt at their graves to do them service in the next world."

On their return to Newchang our travellers encountered Lord John Hay, R. N., with two of his officers, guided by two high mandarins who only flaccoed the British tars, and decamped before reaching the city, which the Commodore and his companions tried in vain to explore without a guide.—Friend of India.
